Frequently Asked Questions

What are micro-communities?

Micro-communities are small groups (3-5 members) of learners aged 18 mos - 3 years old whose learning sessions are facilitated by Appleseed Montessori Teachers in the learners' chosen area.

How are micro-communities formed?

Micro-communities may be formed by parents of a group of Appleseed Montessori students or parents of a playgroup of children who all live in the same residential building and who prefer that learning sessions be facilitated by an Appleseed Montessori teacher in their preferred area.

What are "chosen areas"?

They may be a room in a common residential building or the residence of a host parent in a given micro-community.

Parents in the same micro-community may also opt to rotate their residences as the venue for sessions.

How long are learning sessions?

Each learning session will run for two hours for 3 - 5 sessions per week. They may also be scheduled either in the morning or afternoon. Learning sessions will include circle time, center time, gross motor time and a rotation of small group activities including art, food tasting or food preparation.

Will parents or companions be required to join learning sessions?

Parents and companions are only expected to drop-off and pick-up children in the chosen areas. Designated Appleseed Montessori teachers will facilitate the whole class.

Will micro-community sessions be safe?

Appleseed Montessori and the parents in charge of each micro-community will come up with safety guidelines that are mutually agreeable to ensure the safety of the teachers and the students.
